SHIPBUILDING,-Now that the schooner Robert Portner has been completed and made a good start towards earning many ducats for her owners, the question of building another vessel like her has begun to be agitated. A gentleman from Massachusetts was in the city yesterday authorized to subscribe for five eighthe of a schooner similar to the Portner, probe considered is whether Alexandria will subscribe the money to pay the remaining threeeighths. That such investments pay can be readily demonstrated to the satisfaction of any one by numerous gentiemen of this city who own stock in vessels now trading here, and who assert that they receive from twelve to twenty per cent on their money every year. The advantage to the city in furnishing work for mechanics and thereby increasing and be-ocatting business of all kinds cannot be over-

Ice .- The cold weather of last night produced considerable ice on the river, the flats on the opposite side being covered with a thick coating. The ferry steamer Virginia made two attempts to cross, this morning, but failed each time. The canal is pretty well covered with ice. The boating season may be considered as nearly at an end. There are some few boats out, but they are loaded with the coal that was already mined, and which, if the boats are trozen up, might as well spend the winter on the canal as anywhere else. The ice breaker, belonging to the C. &

NEW YORK, Dec. 5 .- The Tribune's Colum bia dispatch says: All day special trains have been arriving, bringing bedies of armed men, nearly all with rifles. They have their blackets rolled around their neeks and their haversacks slung. They have been quartered in the spacious fair ground buildings acd in the public soldiers in the city. Not less than 3,000 members of the rifle clubs are here. The Supreme Court heard a rule to day against Speaker Mackey to show cause why he should not de-liver the returns received by him as Speaker to Gen. Waltace, Speaker of the democratic devisees et al., in equity; S. Ferguson Beach appointed special commissioner and ordered to all facts of his eleption, and denied the jurisdiction of the Court over the returns, as he held them by virtue of his office for a legal purpose. It is conceded, however, that the Court will not recognize his right to them, and will order him to give them up to Mr. Wallace. Union Relief Association have determined to meet and organize the society at the Orphan Asylum, on Thursday next, at eleven c'clock. An election of officers for the ensuing year will take place, and they hope for a large attendance, and that the same interest which has been extended for the society since its formation will be continued. They again state that it is unsectional, and as the poor of all the various churches receive assistance, so they ask the cooperation of the ladies of all denominations. Heretofore the success of the society has been such as to make them hopeful for the future, the town's people generally responding to any call made through the papers. The society begins operations this winter with a very small fund, but trusting to the benevolence and gencrosity of our public, they cheerfully commence, feeling assured that in their efforts to do good they will receive the reward given to them who 'relieve the poor,' and the assistance of those able to give it. Persons wishing to send contributions, either of clothing or provisions, can send them to the Orphau Asylum on Thursday next and Friday and Saturday ensuing, the sudden change in the weather making it important to commence at once. A large attendance is specially requested, and all who have hitherto assisted are requested to be present and to bring with them those who are interested in the good work of aiding the poor.
